CATHERINE OF ARAGON (1485-1536)

POLICRATICI DE NUGIS CURIALIŪ et vestigiis philosophorū Joanis Salesberiensis. Printed in red and black. Calf. Bound for CATHERINE OF ARAGON, with her arms impressed on the front cover, and those of HENRY VIII on the reverse cover. 8vo. Paris, 1513.

A splendid example of Queen Catherine's library and an extraordinarily rare provenance.

This binding is exactly similar to No. 6 in the British Museum binding catalogue.

ARCHBISHOP CRANMER (1489-1556)

OECOLAMPADIUS. IN DANIELEM LIBRI DUO. 4to. Th. Wolff. Basle, 1530. In postremos tres prophetas. Original calf binding with clasps. 4to. And. Cratander, Basle, 1527.

ARCHBISHOP CRANMER'S COPY. This binding is exactly similar to the one shown in Cranmer's famous portrait, by Flicius, in the National Portrait Gallery.

Johannes Oecolampadius (Johann Hausschein), the celebrated reformer, was born at Weinsberg in 1482, and died at Basle in 1531. He was one of the most learned as well as one of the most moderate of the reformers, but his great influence was owing more to his character than to his works, mainly biblical commentaries and treatises on the Eucharist.

It is interesting to notice in connection with the present volume a passage in a letter from Cranmer to Joachim Vadian (1537): "I have seen almost everything that has been written and published either by Oecolampadius or Zuinglius, and I have come to the conclusion that the writings of every man must be read with discrimination. And perhaps one might apply to these men, and not without reason, the remark of Jerome respecting Origen, that when they wrote well nobody wrote better, etc. And I wish that they had not . . . trodden down the wheat together with the tares."

The binding is a remarkably fine specimen of the English roll-work of the period. It also retains its clasps which are usually wanting in such bindings. The great interest of the volume lies in the inscription on the title-page, "Thomas Cantuarien," showing that it was originally in the library of Thomas Cranmer. In 1892 the Rev. E. Burbidge issued a list of all volumes known from Cranmer's collection, enumerating 42 manuscripts and 369 printed volumes, but the present book escaped him. The majority of Cranmer's books fell into the hands of Henry FitzAlan, Earl of Arundel, who gave them to his son-in-law, Lord Lumley. Lord Lumley was tutor to Prince Henry who, on his tutor's death in 1609, bought a large part of his library which thus became part of the Royal Library, transferred to the nation in 1757.

The present book never came into Lord Lumley's hands, who invariably wrote his name in his books. It contains an early autograph, "Ph. Mainwaring 5*s*," probably that of Sir Philip Mainwaring (1589-1661) of Over Peover, Cheshire, or of his nephew. There are also signatures of members of the families of Stanley and Smallwood, both connected with Cheshire and Lancashire.

HENRY VIII (1491-1547)

HENRY VIII'S "FIELD OF THE CLOTH OF GOLD" ANTIPHONARY.

A superb Manuscript with lovely miniatures attributed to Fra Benedetto. This is believed to be absolutely the finest Renaissance binding in the world. It was bound by Roffet and almost certainly presented to Henry VIII by Francis I when they met at the "Field of the Cloth of Gold."

A printed description, by Professor Bradley, of this wonderful volume with a full-size coloured reproduction of the beautiful binding, can be seen upon application.

FRANCIS I (1494-1547)

ALPHABETUM HEBRAICUM ET GRÆCUM—Theodori Gazae de linguæ græcæ institutione liber secundus, Erasmo Roterodami Interprete, 1518.—Introductivæ Grammatices libri quatuor (Græcè) 1516. Calf. Bound for FRANCIS I, with the "fleurs-de-lis," "abeilles," and "hermine" impressed in the centre panels on the sides. 4to. Louvanii apud Theodoricū Martinum Alustensem, 1518, et Parisiis, Ægid. Gourmontius 1516.

The tools employed by the binder upon this volume were also used to decorate the bindings of his predecessor, Louis XII.

The first book, "De Linguae" is the original edition of Erasmus' translation of the great philologist's (Theodore Gaza) second book of Grammar. The "Introductivae" is described by Brunet as very rare: "Dans cette édition, qui est fort rare, chaque livre a un titre séparé, et les deux premiers livres sont imprimés en plus petits caractères que les deux autres."

COUNT OF MANSFELT (1517-1604)

VINCENT DE BEAUVAIS. LE QUART VOLUME de Vincent miroir hystorial—Le cinquiesme volume de Vincent miroir hystorial. In one volume. Bound in a magnificent MOSAIC binding for PETER ERNEST, COUNT OF MANSFELT, with his arms on the sides together with his motto: "M FORCE M'EST TROP" and "MANSFELT." Folio. Paris, 1531.

A most magnificently bound volume, from the library of the Count of Mansfelt, the celebrated general of Charles-Quint ("the Emperor").

A curious note on the fly-leaf states that this book "apertient a Rene de Chalon et a mon ame Anne de Gros, 1607, 4*me de Mars. De feu gran pere le princ et conte de Mansfelt Pier Ernest.*"

René de Chalon has written his name upon the title-page. Later he gave the volume to the College of the Society of Jesus at Nivelles. The librarian of that college has written upon the title-page, "Collegij Soc̃tis Jesū Nivellis. Dono Dn̄ae de Chalon. Ora pro Illa. 1627."

This was one of the finest bindings in the Didot collection, and it is figured in the illustrated catalogue of that extraordinary collection.

One of the most remarkable and most gorgeous bindings that has ever occurred for sale.

Bound, by* CLOVIS EVE, for CHARLES DE BOURBON (Cardinal Archbishop of Rouen), with his arms impressed on the back. 8vo. 1588.

"Charles X" of the League.

Olive morocco; gilt on the sides with a treble fillet; the back also framed with a treble gold fillet; a simple gold line along the edges of the covers; the edges of the book plain-gilt. The Cardinal, who died in 1594, was the first of the Bourbons who took to this plain binding of modern style, which De Thou had already begun to affect. On the flat and bandless back there is first the title, the Cardinal's hat surmounting the Bourbon arms (the lilies with a bendlet), and further down, within an oval, a natural lily surrounded by a motto, "Superat candore et odore."

SIR THOMAS HOBY (1530-1566)

VOULTE (JEAN). INSCRIPTIONUM LIBRI II; Xeniorum libellus Hendecasyllaborum libri IV. Original gilt calf, 2 vols in 1. Simon de Colines. Paris, 1538.

SIR THOMAS HOBY'S COPY.

Jean Faciot, who in the fashion of the times Latinized his name as Vulteius, is now generally known as Voulté. He was born about 1510 at Vandy-sur-Aisne near Rheims. He studied at Paris, and in 1533 was engaged as a lecturer at the College of Guyenne in Bordeaux. Later he migrated to Toulouse to study law, but gave it up in favour of literature. In 1536 he was at Lyons, and by the advice of his friends, Pierre Duchâtel and Guillaume Scève, issued his two books of epigrams, which were printed by Gryphius. In 1537 he published a further two books of epigrams, printed at Lyons by J. Barbous.

The present two works followed, and beyond these he is only known to have written one small tract, a funeral oration on Jacques de Minut, printed at Lyons in 1537, which has escaped the notice of bibliographers, and of which the only known copy is in the Christie collection in Manchester University. Voulté was assassinated by an unsuccessful opponent in a law suit on 30th Dec., 1542. His work, though not of great merit from a poetical point of view, has much value for the small biographical details which it gives of the lives of his contemporaries—Dolet, Duchâtel, Marot, Briconnet, and others. It also throws a great deal of light upon the disturbances in the University of Toulouse, though little use seems to have been made of it by historians.

The present copy is in the original brown calf-binding with gilt fleurons at the corners, and a Renaissance design in gold in the centre; in the upper part of either side are the initials T. H. On the fly-leaf is the inscription "1553 mense Febr. Thomas Hobeus Anglus. Parisiis," showing that it formerly belonged to the celebrated Sir Thomas Hoby. He was born in 1530, and was the second son of William Hoby, of Leominster. He matriculated at St. John's College, Cambridge, in 1545, and, after going through his course, spent some years in travelling in foreign countries, especially Italy and France, when no doubt he bought this book. He was knighted in 1566, and went as ambassador to France, but died at Paris in July of the same year. He was greatly esteemed by his contemporaries for his literary knowledge and elegance of style, his most important publication being a translation of the "Cortegiano of Baldassare Castiglione," first issued in 1561, and frequently reprinted.

WILLIAM IV, LANDGRAVE OF HESSE-CASSEL (1532-1592)

BRAZIL. HISTORIA NAVIGATIONIS IN BRASILIAM, quae et America dicitur. Qua describitur autoris navigatio, quaeque in mari vidit memoriae prodenda: Villagagnonis in America gesta: Brasiliensium victus et mores à nostris admodum alieni, cum eorum linguae dialogo: animalia etiam, arbores, atque herbae, reliquáque singularia et nobis penitùs incognita. A Joanne Lerio Burgundo Gallicè scripta. Nunc verò primum Latinitate donata, et variis figuris illustrata. Ruled in red. Numerous curious woodcuts. Calf, gilt leaves, the sides and back elaborately tooled in gold with floral arabesques. The DEDICATION COPY to WILLIAM IV, LANDGRAVE OF HESSE-CASSEL, surnamed "The Wise," with his arms in mosaics of green, red, and black, with the insignia in gold on the binding. Above and below the arms is a cherub's head in gold. 8vo. Genevae, 1586.

An extremely fine and interesting copy of this most rare piece of Americana. The Dedication Copy to the Founder of the princely house of Hesse-Cassel is obviously a notable volume.

This splendid binding is an excellent example of the best Venetian work of the sixteenth century.

QUEEN ELIZABETH (1533-1603)

COMMINES. THE HISTORIE OF PHILIP DE COMMINES, Knight Lord of Argenton (translated by Thomas Danett). Calf. Bound for QUEEN ELIZABETH, with her arms, the Tudor rose surmounted by the royal crown, stamped on the sides of the binding. Folio. Imprinted by Ar. Hatfield for J. Norton, 1596.

This is the earliest English version of "De Commines." The impression of 1596 (which is far rarer than that of 1601, and is not quite correctly described by bibliographers), has the powerful interest, that it appeared just at the point of time when Shakespeare had in hand his "Tragedy of King Richard II," printed in the following year, and was naturally led to look about for information concerning Italy, between which country and England the relations had then grown regular and intimate. In the drama the author introduces the banishment of Mowbray, Duke of Norfolk, his settlement at Venice, and death there, and he elsewhere refers to the "fashions of proud Italy."

> ". . . whose manners still our tardy apish nation
> Limps after in base imitation."

De Commines, who was well acquainted with Italy and with Venice itself, describes the country and the place in his book in flattering colours, and it was just that sort of personal, picturesque way of narrating scenes and experiences which would impress Shakespeare. Capel reprinted a portion of this edition of De Commines in his "School of Shakespeare" (pages 201-3).

FROBISHER (1535?-1594)

MACHIAVELLI. (NICOLO). I MEDESIMI. 8vo. Palermo, 1584.

The Autograph of Sir Martin Frobisher (the great Elizabethan Admiral and Navigator) is contained in this, his copy of Machiavelli.

The famous navigator presented this copy of Machiavelli to his friend, George Day, in 1585, and at the same time wrote with his own hand the following inscription upon the fly-leaf:

"To Maijster George Daye this book of Machiavell his woorkes ffrom his grte (great) ffrende Martin Ffrobisher ye 26 March 1585."

Sir Martin Frobisher's autograph is of superlative rarity, and never before have we had the good fortune to be able to offer one for sale.

As regards the volume itself its preservation is admirable, and the original binding is just as it was when Sir Martin Frobisher wrote his autograph in it.

"In 1588 Frobisher commanded the 'Triumph' in the great Armada fight. On Sunday, 21 July (Old Style), in conjunction with Drake in the 'Revenge,' and Hawkins in the 'Victory,' he first beat the Spanish rear-admiral; later in the day he with Hawkins engaged Don Pedro de Valdez, leader of the Andalusian squadron, who, however, did not yield until Drake came to their assistance next morning, very much to Frobisher's annoyance. On Wednesday the 24th, when the English fleet was augmented from the Thames, Frobisher led one of the four newly-formed squadrons. On Monday the 29th, Frobisher, with Drake and Hawkins, gave their final blows to the remains of the Armada while in difficulties on the shoals off Gravelines."

It is an interesting fact that just as Frobisher (in 1588) fought against the Armada, so his friend George Day (to whom he gave his copy of Machiavelli) figures in the list of those Essex gentlemen who contributed money towards the cost of England's defence at that stirring period. Day subscribed £25, February, 1588.

As a navigator, Sir Martin Frobisher is principally known to posterity by his three voyages in search of a North-West passage.

TASSO (1544-1595)

BEMBO (PIERRE). LE PROSE (rivedute da Varchi). Folio. Venice, 1525.

From Tasso's Library. This most precious copy of the great Italian Poet Bembo's works, is annotated throughout by Tasso.

The present famous volume was in Tasso's possession whilst he was confined in the Hospital of Saint Anne between the years 1579 and 1586, and literally every leaf is enriched with his manuscript notes and annotations.

This splendid relic of the great Italian Poet passed from the possession of Professor Rossini (Tasso's biographer) to George Hibbert, from Hibbert's world-famous library into that of Sir William Tite, and finally to the late Lady Currie (better known under her nom de plume of "Violet Fane").

The volume is in its old binding just as Tasso handled it, but preserved in a morocco case.

This important Tasso manuscript has never been published.

CARDINAL DE LORRAINE (1552-1588)

LORRAINE. CAROLI LOTHARINGI CARD. ET FRANCISCI DUCIS GUYSII, Literae et Arma, in funebri Oratione habita Nancij à N. Bocherio Theologo, & ab eodē posteà latinè plenius explicata, &c. Title within woodcut border, portraits of the Duke and Cardinal, woodcut of the Cardinal's tomb, and woodcut borders to the pages comprising the epitaph. Ruled in red. Vellum. Bound for Louis, Cardinal de Lorraine, with his arms impressed in gold on the sides. 4to. Lutetiae, Federici Morelli, 1577.

The Dedication Copy. Printed on Large Paper.

This famous man (a first cousin of Mary, Queen of Scots) was created Archbishop of Reims in 1574 and Cardinal in 1578. He was assassinated at Blois in 1588.

References to Mary Stuart and her Royal husband occur on folios 25^a and 94^b.

The lives of these two brothers, François de Lorraine, second Duc de Guise, and Charles, Cardinal de Guise, form an important page in the history of France.

Over (their niece) Mary Stuart and her Royal husband the brothers acquired a real power.

The volume is extremely rare, and was unknown to Mrs. John Scott, the bibliographer of Mary Stuart.

The Author—Nicholas Boucher—was preceptor to the Princes of Lorraine, and later became Bishop of Virdun.

The printer—Fédéric Morel, called l'ancien—acquired fame both as a printer and a theologian. He was descended from a noble family, and gained, at Paris, a very extensive literary knowledge. He was the pupil, with the famous printer Estienne, of Jacques Toussaint (Tussanus), the author of the Greek Lexicon (Lexique grec). The printing of this celebrated work was commenced by Jacques Bogard, but both he and Toussaint died soon after. The solid learning of Morel now brought him to the front, and in 1557 the famous Vascosan bestowed upon him his daughter. In 1571 he was named the King's (Charles IX) printer, a title which, through modesty, he very rarely used. Sometimes, however, this high title is found at the end of his books with the words Pietate et Justitia—Charles IX's motto. In the present copy of the above work, the title is found upon the title-page—Ex Officina Federici Morelli Typographi Regij—a very unusual occurrence.

This is one of the last works printed by Morel at his dwelling in rue Saint Jean-de-Beauvais, for in 1578 he changed his residence, doubtless removing to more spacious quarters. In 1581 the right to transmit the title of "the King's Printer" to his son was accorded him.

HENRI IV (1553-1610)

CRONIQUE SOMMAIREMENT traictee des Faictz Heroiques de tous les Rois de France, & des personnes & choses memorables de leurs temps. 59 finely engraved portraits of the Kings of France. Bound for Henri IV in brown morocco, with his arms on the sides, which are entirely covered with fleurs-de-lis. Sm. 8vo. Lyon, Clement Baudin, 1570.

A splendid example of binding by Clovis Eve.

This excessively rare volume, which contains a very early, and hitherto unknown, notice of Mary Stuart, was formerly in the Didot collection.

The remarkable binding is illustrated in the Didot catalogue.

ance of the monuments, medals, and inscriptions for the study of history, and left many works of history and antiquities of which the present is one of the most famous.

As to the artist, Et. Dupérac, we note that he cultivated architecture, painting, and engraving, and was architect to Henri IV. He finished the first part of the great gallery in the Louvre, which had been commenced by Du Cerceau.

The earliest edition mentioned by Brunet is that of 1642.

MARGUERITE DE VALOIS (1553-1615)

SENECA. JANI GRUTERI ANIMADVERSIONES in L. Annaei Seneca Opera. Morocco, richly tooled. Bound by CLOVIS EVE for MARGUERITE DE VALOIS, Queen of Henri IV, "La Reine Margot." 2 vols. 12mo. 1595.

Two charming little volumes in quite faultless preservation.

Citron morocco, most richly gilt with the exquisite decoration which marks the ownership of QUEEN MARGUERITE (de Valois), the most remarkable woman of her line, who, by marrying Henry of Navarre, became the link between the Valois and the Bourbon dynasties.

These volumes must rank with the most perfect and most beautiful examples of the "Valois" binding now preserved. They are quite as fine as the Queen's copy of "Guarini" (one volume only) which sold in the Beckford Sale (nearly thirty years ago) for £175.

JACQUES AUGUSTE DE THOU AND HIS WIFE (1553-1617)

CARIO. CHRONICON CARIONIS EXPOSITUM ET AUCTUM MULTIS ET VETERIBUS ET RECENTIBUS HISTORIIS, in descriptionibus regnorum & gentium antiquarum, & narrationibus rerum Ecclesiasticarum, & Politicarum, Graecarum, Romanarum, Germanicarum & aliarum, ab exordio Mundi usque ad Carolum quintum imperatorem. A Philippo Melanthone et Casparo Peucero. Tertia Pars Chronici Carionis a Casparo Peucero Expositi et Aucti. Citron morocco. Bound for JACQUES AUGUSTE DE THOU and his second wife, GASPARDE DE LA CHASTRE, with their arms impressed on the sides. 3 parts in 2 vols. 8vo. Genevae, Apud Petrum Santandreanum. 1576.

A beautiful and most unusual example of the library of this great statesman and historian.

Citron morocco ornamented with flower patterns in colour. The flat and bandless back is divided into six panels by quadruple gold lines bearing the monogram of I A G on each of the panels except the one that has the title. There is a treble gold fillet on the sides, with the arms in the centre. The edges are plain-gilt.

The flowered morocco is seldom seen on De Thou's books. These volumes were bound about 1606.

When this Chronicle was published De Thou was engaged upon his magnum opus, the "Historia mei Temporis."

FRANÇOIS DE COLIGNY (1557-1591)

HEURES À L'USAGE DE ROME. Black morocco. Both covers, and the back, are entirely covered with the initials "C C." (Coligny Chatillon), "M. M." and "A. A." (Marguerite d'Ailly, his wife) interlaced, and the well-known "S" fermé used on the bindings of Henri II and his mistress Diana de Poictiers. The volume is illustrated with many splendid full-page wood engravings, and every page is within a border of emblematical designs. Black Letter. Sm. 8vo. Paris, Pigouchet for Simon Vostre, 1496.

A most precious volume bound for François de Coligny (son of the celebrated Admiral Coligny who was killed in the "Massacre of St. Bartholomew") and his wife.

Apart from being an excessively rare provenance this "Livre d'Heures" itself is of the greatest beauty and rarity, being the Simon Vostre edition of 1496. "It was in this year that Pigouchet began to use a second set of cuts, and also introduced his well-known borders of the 'Dance of Death.' In them the figures go in sets of three. In this 1496 edition first occurs 'La Theologienne,' 'Nouvelle Mariée,' and 'La Femme Grosse.'"

"The binding is of great interest and quite unusual in style. The sides are divided into numerous small diamond-shaped compartments by means of dotted lines. One striking point about this binding is that it is tooled entirely in silver on black morocco. François de Coligny escaped from the "Massacre of St. Bartholomew" and lived mainly abroad. He remained faithful to Henri IV, and held several appointments."

One of the finest volumes in the Didot collection and illustrated in the famous catalogue.

Original sheepskin.* 4to. London, printed by W. S. 1611.

A unique and very important copy, being that which was given by Coryat to his friend, John Davies of Hereford, the Elizabethan poet. Davies was the author of the five pages of "Commendatory Verses" and the poetical description of the frontispiece to the "Crudities." This is a most precious copy, because the manuscript "Continental Itinerary" on the fly-leaves, numerous satirical and emendatory remarks in the margins, an original Quatrain signed "Jo. Davis," and the signature "Jo. Da," on E 8, are all in Davies's autograph. In addition to these five pages of manuscript, Davies has added several manuscript notes in the margins throughout the text.

JAMES I (1566-1625)

ACTS OF PARLIAMENT. Original calf, very richly tooled. Folio. Edinburgh, Thomas Finlason, 1621.

These acts of the twenty-third Parliament of James VI, held at Edinburgh in August, 1621, were printed by Thomas Finlason, who purchased the privileges, stock, and plant of Robert Smyth, an earlier printer, in 1602, succeeded Waldegrave in 1604, and was appointed King's printer in June, 1612. He printed about seventy books, and died towards the end of 1627.

Of this edition there appear to have been two issues, which vary slightly. One, like the present, ends Finis, the other ends "The end of the XXIII, etc." There are copies of each in the British Museum.

The present copy is remarkable for its extremely ornamental and elaborate binding, a very curious and uncommon specimen of Scottish work of the period. The whole side is minutely worked with small tools, hardly any use having been made of the roll. The elaborate centre ornament is arranged in the form of a circle, usual in Scottish work, in place of a diamond or lozenge more common in England, while each corner of the panel is filled with a quarter-circle. The whole field is semé with gold rosettes and quatrefoils, while the whole ground is heightened with gilt dotting. The diamond shaped spaces throughout the ornament appear to have been coloured. It seems most probable that this binding was specially prepared for presentation to King James himself, in the printer's office, for the paper used for the lining and end-papers is the same as that on which the book itself is printed.

This beautiful volume was in the library of David Laing, librarian of the Signet Library, Edinburgh, who died in 1878, and whose splendid library was sold in 1879-80. In the frontispiece to Laing's Life (printed in 1878), he is shown HOLDING THIS VERY VOLUME IN HIS HAND. It was also at one time in the British Museum, but sold in the disastrous "duplicate" sale in 1769, when so many unique books and bindings were lost to the nation.

A copy of the Life of Laing containing the portrait in which he is seen holding this volume accompanies it.

LOUIS XIII (1601-1643)

GUEDRON ET BOESSET. AIRS DE COUR, à quatre et cinq parties, par P. Guedron, 1608, 1612, 1617, 1618, 1620, in 5 parts.—AIRS DE COUR, à quatre et cinq parties, par Anthoine Boesset, 1617, 1620, 1621, 1624, 1628, in 5 parts. The 10 parts bound in one volume. The Dedication Copy to Louis XIII. Bound in brown morocco, the sides and back entirely covered with the King's crowned chiffre and the fleur-de-lis. Sm. 8vo. Paris, 1608-28.

Louis XIII's pocket song-book, and probably the most interesting example of his library that has survived. This precious volume contains two manuscript songs, written in the King's own autograph on the end fly-leaves, one being to his "Amarillis" (Madame de Hautefort).

The following note by Monsieur Paul Lacroix is inserted:

"Ce recueil d'airs de cour n'aurait pas appartenu au roi Louis XIII, qu'il serait encore bien rare et bien précieux, car tous les livrets de musique de chambre que les Ballard publiaient seuls à cette époque, en vertu d'un privilège du roi, étaient bientôt gâtés et détruits par l'usage, et ne survivaient guère à la génération qui les avait vus naître; de même que les livres de chasse, de cuisine, de jardinage et de prédictions. Mais ce recueil, outre son incontestable mérite de rareté et de curiosité, est en quelque sorte un monument historique, une relique de la vie privée de Louis XIII. Tallemant des Réaux (édition de M. Paulin, Paris, t. ii, p. 246) a placé ce roi dans la confrérie des musiciens: 'Il composait en musique et ne s'y connaissait pas mal.' Nous sommes donc fondés à lui attribuer les vers et la musique de deux chansons qu'il a écrites et notées de sa propre main à la fin du recueil, l'une sur l'éloignement d'une dame qu'il ne nomme pas, l'autre sur le départ d'Amarillis. Cette Amarillis pourrait bien être madame de Hautefort, dont il s'était fait le chaste adorateur. Voici deux couplets de cette touchante chanson d'amour:

Quels lauriers pui-je pretendre
Dans l'amertume ou je vy?
Sans cœur, que pui-je entreprendre?
Hélas! tu me l'as ravy.
Ah! qu'il me vaudroit bien mieux
N'avoir point revue tes yeux!

Dans quel goufre de tristesse
Mes jours sont ensevelis!
Las! malgré moy je te laisse,
Tu le vois, Amarillis,
Et ne sçais l'arrest des cieux
Qui m'eslongne de ses yeux.

"Il y a plusieurs autres airs manuscrits qui sont certainement de ceux que le roi aimait à chanter lui-même en basse-contre, mais qui ont été copiés par une autre main, peut-être celle de Moulinié, le compositeur favori du roi, qui semble avoir mis son paraphe sur la dédicace du premier fascicule. N'oublions pas d'indiquer dans ce fascicule la fameuse chanson du Petit pon, que Louis XIII entonnait de si gaillarde humeur quand il était dans ses bonnes. On voit cela et bien d'autres choses dans le Journal de son médecin ordinaire, Hérouard. Peut-être y découvrira-t-on quelque passage relatif à ce recueil d'airs de cour, formé et relié exprès pour Louis XIII, qui l'a tenu plus d'une fois entre ses mains royales dans les concerts intimes que dirigeait Antoine Boesset, l'intendant de la musique de la chambre du roi et de la reine."

This extraordinarily interesting volume was one of the gems of the great Didot collection, and is described at great length in his catalogue.

HENRIETTA MARIA, QUEEN OF CHARLES I (1609-1669)

THE QUEEN'S JEWEL CASKET.

This beautiful objet d'art forms a cedar-wood casket entirely covered with embroidery and needlework of the best Stuart period. The scheme of decoration portrays Charles and Henrietta Maria, surrounded by the Lion of England and the Fleur-de-lis of France.

In addition to the ordinary jewel drawers, there are, at the back of the casket, two very ingeniously designed secret drawers.

The preservation of the casket is quite wonderful, and can only be accounted for by the fact that it has always been preserved in a strong oak box.

A set of six photographs of the casket can be sent on application.

COLBERT (1619-1683)

LUTHER (MARTIN). OPERA OMNIA. 7 vols. Red morocco. Bound for Jean Baptiste Colbert, Marquis de SEIGNELAY, with his arms impressed on the sides of each volume. Folio. Wittenberg, Johann Lufft, 1558.

This copy belonged to JEAN BAPTISTE COLBERT, Marquis de Seignelay (1619-1683), the celebrated minister of Louis XIV. He formed, assisted by the taste of his librarians, Carcavi and Baluze, an immense library of printed books, and the finest collection of manuscripts ever brought together, the latter still preserved, almost entire, in the Bibliothèque Nationale. Colbert was obsessed by the idea that he was descended from the Scottish kings, and spared neither trouble nor expense in trying to prove it, even going so far as to persuade Louis XIV to write to Charles to have the Scottish archives searched, needless to say without result. He is also asserted to have obtained the morocco for his bookbindings from abroad by a special clause in a treaty, and certainly what was used for his books is an extraordinary fine quality. On his death his library passed to his eldest son, and next, to his second son, Archbishop of Rouen, who in turn bequeathed it to his nephew, Charles Eléonor Colbert, who sold the printed books in 1728.

The present was lot 792 in the first volume of the catalogue "Martini Lutheri opera. Witeb. 1558. 7 vol. Mar" and produced 101 livres.

It passed later into the collection of the Rev. Theodore Williams, and was sold at his sale in 1827 for fifty guineas, being purchased by the Hon. George James Welbore Agar Ellis, Lord Dover (1797-1833), whose book-plate it contains.

SUPERB COPIES PRINTED ON LARGE PAPER, AND MAGNIFICENTLY BOUND BY BOYET.

There is scarcely any rarer or more esteemed provenance than that of the Duchesse de Montpensier, "LA GRANDE MADEMOISELLE." Anne Marie Louise d'Orléans, daughter of Gaston d'Orléans (brother of Louis XIII), was the greatest heiress in Europe, and one of the most brilliant and famous Frenchwomen of the age of Louis XIV.

So rare are examples from the library of "La Grande Mademoiselle," that at the Turner sale Baron La Roche-Lacarelle paid 14,000 francs for her copy of "L'Histoire de la Princesse de Paphlagonae."

At the death of the Duchesse de Montpensier the present volumes passed into the possession of the REGENT D'ORLÉANS; his chiffre is stamped on the title-pages. They afterwards formed part of the magnificent library of Prince Radziwill.

THESE FOUR SPLENDID VOLUMES ARE WITHOUT DOUBT THE FINEST EXAMPLES OF THIS FAMOUS WOMAN'S LIBRARY THAT CAN EVER OCCUR FOR SALE.

LOUIS LE GRAND DAUPHIN (1661-1711)

FLECHIER. ORAISON FUNEBRE de très auguste et très vertueuse princesse Marie-Thérèse d'Autriche, infante d'Espagne, reyne de France et de Navarre. MANUSCRIPT. Contemporary calf. Bound for LOUIS LE GRAND DAUPHIN, son of Louis XIV.

"Très intéressant manuscrit de l'oraison funèbre de Marie-Thérèse d'Autriche, femme de Louis XIV, par Fléchier; il diffère sensiblement du texte imprimé.

"Tandis que l'oraison classique débute par ce verset de l'Ecclésiaste; Fundamenta æterna supra petram solidam, et mandata Dei in corde mulieris sanctæ, le manuscrit présente ce texte qui s'accorde mieux avec le ton général et les divisions du discours: Fallax gratia et vana est pulchritudo, Mulier timens Dominum ipsa laudabitur.

"L'oraison manuscrite est divisée en trois parties; l'oraison imprimée en deux seulement; la première comprend 103 feuillets, la seconde une quarantaine de pages seulement; celle-là est d'un tiers au moins plus longue que celle-ci C'est surtout à partir de la fin de la première partie que les différences s'accentuent; la version imprimée s'éloigne de plus en plus du texte manuscrit, jusqu'à la peroraison qui diffère entièrement dans l'une et dans l'autre.

"Selon nous, le manuscrit donne l'oraison funèbre telle que Fléchier l'avait d'abord conçue et composée; jugeant ensuite qu'elle dépassait les bornes ordinaires de ces sortes de discours, que sa longueur fatiguerait peut-être les oreilles aristocratiques de ses auditeurs (le Dauphin et les princes et princesses du sang) il crut devoir la ramener à de moindres proportions. Les retranchements portent principalement sur les détails de la vie retirée, presque cloitrée de Marie Thérèse (qui auront peut-être paru trop peu relevés pour l'éloge funèbre d'une reine), sur ses pratiques de dévotion et de charité; sur son rôle politique, d'ailleurs si effacé, sur les citations latines de l'Ecriture et des Pères de l'Eglise (beaucoup moins fréquentes dans le texte imprimé).

"En somme, ce manuscrit nous fait connaître une trentaine de pages inédites d'un des maîtres de la chaire française, et ces pages ne le cèdent point à celles qui ont été conservées pour l'impression. Quelques-unes même, d'un tour simple et aisé, l'emportent sur des morceaux plus soignés, ou Fléchier a peut-être trop prodigue l'antithèse et les fleurs de sa rhétorique un peu travaillée.

"En un temps ou l'on recueille avec tant de soin les moindres fragments de nos auteurs classiques, trente pages de l'aimable et éloquent évêque de Nîmes ne sont point à dédaigner.

JAMES III (1688-1765)

PITCAIRNE (ARCHIBALD). DISSERTATIONES MEDICAE. 4to. Edinburgh, Robert Freebairn, 1713.

Archibald Pitcairne was born at Edinburgh in 1652, and having entered the University there in 1668, graduated in 1671. Soon afterwards he proceeded to Paris for the purpose of studying law, but making friends with several medical students he joined them in their studies. After a few years in his native town he returned to study medicine abroad, and became M.D. in 1680, after which he took up practice in Edinburgh, where he died in October, 1713. He is perhaps best known by his satirical verses attacking the Presbyterian church, which, with his strong Jacobite sympathies, he intensely disliked. His various medical dissertations, issued at various dates, were collected together and issued in one volume at Rotterdam in 1701, and reprinted at Edinburgh in 1713.

The present copy is of great interest, being the magnificently bound presentation copy to JAMES EDWARD FRANCIS STUART, commonly known as the "Old Pretender," son of James II and half-brother to Queen Anne. On each side is the bold inscription, "Regi Scotorum Jacobo Octavo, Pitcarnius," an unequivocal statement of the author's political opinions. To the Jacobites he was James III of England and James VIII of Scotland.

The binding is an extremely fine example of the very distinctive Scottish school which flourished at Edinburgh in the early years of the eighteenth century. The material used was almost invariably a very deep blue-green morocco, very occasionally red. The centre panel was often worked with a roll, the one weak point about the bindings. The rest of the ornament was all hand-tooled, and a lavish use made of gold dotting, giving a very rich effect. The corners were generally filled with rather florid sprays. A very fine example, much resembling the present, and worked with many of the same tools is on a copy of "The Parfait Mareschal," Edinburgh, 1696, in the British Museum, and was reproduced as Plate 55 in Fletcher's "English Bookbindings in the British Museum." Another peculiarity of these bindings is that they are almost always lined with coloured and gilt German end papers.

On the inner board is the book-plate of the Scots College at Paris, engraved by Ingram.

In the centre is a figure of St. Andrew, and on the left the arms of Scotland. On the right are two shields surmounted by a cardinal's hat. The first is that of Cardinal James Beaton, Archbishop of Glasgow, who, at his death in 1603, left all his fortune and library to the college, the second that of some other bishop, the arms being apparently that of the family of Murray.

The main portion of the library of the Scots College was dispersed at the time of the Revolution, though part is believed to have been removed to St. Omer.

JOHN WESLEY (1703-1791)

JOHNSON (SAMUEL). The Lives of the most eminent English Poets; with critical observations on their Works. Portrait. 4 vols. Black morocco. 8vo. London, 1781.

THE UNIQUE PRESENTATION COPY FROM THE AUTHOR TO JOHN WESLEY. This book was given to Wesley by Dr. Johnson, and has the inscription "J. Wesley. The Gift of the Author. 1781" on the back of the portrait (in vol. i) in Wesley's autograph. The great evangelist bequeathed these most interesting volumes to his nephew Samuel Wesley. The latter has written underneath his celebrated uncle's inscription "S. Wesley the legacy of his much honored Uncle J. Wesley 1791." Besides these two autograph inscriptions, Samuel Wesley has written upon the top of the title-pages, "S. Wesley: the Legacy of the Revd. John Wesley."

The value and importance of this precious "Association" book needs no herald. A work presented by the great lexicographer to the great evangelist and founder of Methodism is a unique possession.

MADAME DE POMPADOUR (1721-1764)

LA LIVE DE JULLY. RECUEIL DE CARICATURES dessinées par J. Saly et gravées par A. L. de

La Live. etc. Red morocco, by Derome. Madame de Pompadour's copy, with her arms on the sides. Folio. (Paris, 1754.)

One of the most important and most superb examples of Madame de Pompadour's library extant.

Monsieur Quentin Bauchart, in his "Les Femmes Bibliophiles de France," was unable to trace this fine book when describing the Marchioness' library, and had to be content with a catalogue description. It is No. 36 (p. 74, Tome II) in Bauchart's book.

This work was unknown to Cohen and Brunet.

The plates comprised in the volume are:

Portrait of Dionysius La Live de Bellegarde (the father of the engraver). After Rigaud.

Recueil de Caricatures dessinées par Saly. 17 plates. Proofs before Letters.

Studio di Paesi Dedicato al Ill^mo^ Dupin de Franceuil Sig^re^ Virtuossissimo et amicissimo del autore La Live D. J. 8 engravings. 6 are Proofs before Letters.

A Vase, after Saly. Proof, with artists' names etched in.

Louis Bontems, after De Nyers. Proof, with inscription on the plate and artists' names etched in.

Pierre Gilbert de Cange, after Denyer. Proof, with inscription on the plate and artists' names etched in.

La Correzione. Dedicata alla Signorina di Mazade. After Boucher.

Les Elemens a Madame De Roissy. Engraved title by La Live and 4 plates after Natoire as follows:

(a) L'Air.
(b) Le feu.
(c) La Terre.
(d) L'eau.

Four peasant girls, after Boucher. Three are Proofs before Letters with artists' names etched in.

A Vase. Proof before Letters, with name etched in.

A Pastoral Scene, after Boucher. Proof before Letters, with names etched in.

Another, after Pater. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS, with artists' names etched in.

Two Vases, after Saly. PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS, with names etched in.

45 engravings in all. Inserted are three holograph notes of "La Pompadour."

The author was the brother of La Live d'Epinay and Mme. d'Houdetot. He became introducer of ambassadors to the French court. A distinguished amateur, he had the talent for miniature painting and etching. His work is of the greatest beauty and rarity.

MARQUIS DE PAULMY (1722-1787)

ÉTAT DES TROUPES et des Etats-Majors des Places. MANUSCRIPT, covering 201 pages. Blue morocco. Bound for the MARQUIS DE PAULMY, with his arms impressed on the sides. 8vo. (Paris) 1758.

The title to this elegantly written manuscript is enclosed within an original and exquisite drawing in water-colours by Ch. Eisen (signed). It was especially drawn for the Marquis de Paulmy, whose arms are introduced.

This Manuscript contains the census of the French troops, the names of the Commanders, the pay of each officer, and also of each regiment.

It is a remarkable coincidence that this volume should have been presented to the Marquis of Paulmy, for it was to this nobleman that Madame de Pompadour (to whom Eisen presented the preceding volume) gave a copy of her Suite d'Estampes gravées à l'eau forte d'après les pierres gravées de Guay, which is now in the Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal. That particular example is handsomely bound in red morocco and has the following inscription on the sides in gold: Œuvre de Madame la Marquise de Pompadour, donné par elle-même au Marquis de Paulmy.

Marc Antoine René de Paulmy was the son of the Marquis d'Argenson, and is known to the world of letters by his numerous publications. The Marquis de Paulmy formed one of the richest and most precious libraries that any individual had ever possessed. He sold it to the Comte d'Artois (Charles X) in 1785, and it still exists as the Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal.

AN EXQUISITE LITTLE VOLUME OF THE MOST PATHETIC INTEREST.

Louis XVI was in the habit of putting THIS CHARMING COPY of Horace into his pocket when he went for his walks in the park at Versailles.

A contemporary note of authentication by Pigault-Maubaitlarcq, to whom this precious volume was given by a friend employed by Louis XVI at the Château de Versailles, is written upon the fly-leaf.

This is possibly the most "intimate" example of Louis XVI's library extant. (See note in volume by Mr. E. Gordon-Duff.)

BECKFORD (1759-1844)

HUTCHINSON (COLONEL). MEMOIRS OF THE LIFE OF, Governor of Nottingham Castle and Town Representative of the County of Nottingham in the Long Parliament, and of the town of Nottingham in the First Parliament of Charles II, etc. . . . Written by his Widow Lucy Hutchinson. Portraits of Colonel Hutchinson and Lucy Hutchinson, by Neagle and Freeman, view of Nottingham Castle after Barber by Medland, etc. Russia. 4to. 1806.

Beckford's copy, with numerous extremely curious annotations by him covering both pages of one of the fly-leaves. One of these notes refers to Mary Queen of Scots, and states:

"Poor Mary Q. of Scots most foully abused by the virtuous Mrs. Hutchinson who calls her a wicked Queen of a bloody, lustful temper."

Another states:

"Q. Eliz. urged on by the true-hearted Protestants to sign the death-warrant of Mary."

The present is a LARGE PAPER copy with a duplicate unlettered proof portrait of Col. Hutchinson.

ELIZABETH DE FRANCE (1764-1794) AND LOUIS XVI (1754-1793)

LEFRANC DE POMPIGNAN. LA RELIGION VENGEE de l'incrédulité par l'incrédulité elle-même. Par M. l'Evêque du Puy (J. Georges Lefranc de Pompignan). Red morocco. On the recto are the arms of PHILIPPINE MARIE HÉLÈNE ELIZABETH DE FRANCE (sister of Louis XVI), and on the verso are those of LOUIS XVI. Small 8vo. Paris, 1772.

This volume was probably a present from Madame Elizabeth to her brother, Louis XVI, who caused his arms to be impressed on the binding after erasing, as far as possible, those of his Sister, which are still visible beneath the King's impress.

A remarkable example of two royal libraries.

CHARLES DICKENS (1812-1870)

WILKIE COLLINS. THE ORIGINAL HOLOGRAPH MANUSCRIPT (SIGNED) of his "HIDE AND SEEK." Quite complete. Covering 197 pages folio and 3 pages 8vo (200 pages).

At the end of Vol. I Wilkie Collins has written the date and signed it: "Finished May 31/'53 W. W. C." It is DEDICATED TO THE AUTHOR'S GIFTED FRIEND, CHARLES DICKENS. The title which the author originally intended to give this famous novel was "The Hair Bracelet," and Wilkie Collins had written those words upon the title-page, afterwards replacing them by the title finally decided upon—"Hide and Seek."

On the verso of the second and third leaves of the second volume is a page and a half of Manuscript in Wilkie Collins' autograph under the title of "The Hair Bracelet."

This latter portion is evidently the original rough draft of a part of the Novel, and contains some of Collins' first ideas for the story. The verso of the third leaf of Vol. II bears his autograph signature, "W. Wilkie Collins."

Vol. III is signed in the top left-hand corner by the author:

"W. Wilkie Collins,
"17 Hanover Terrace,
"Regent's Park."

Writing to Miss Hogarth on the 22nd July, 1854, Dickens said:

"Neither you nor Catherine (Mrs. Dickens) did justice to Collins's book ('Hide and Seek'). I think it far away the cleverest novel I have ever seen written by a new hand. It is in some respects masterly. Valentine Blyth is as original, and as well done, as anything can be. The scene where he shows his pictures is full of an admirable humour. Old Mat is admirably done. In short I call it a very remarkable book, and have been very much surprised by its great merit."

Accompanying this precious Manuscript is THE PRESENTATION COPY TO CHARLES DICKENS OF THE FIRST EDITION OF THE NOVEL WITH WILKIE COLLINS' HOLOGRAPH INSCRIPTION (SIGNED), AND CHARLES DICKENS' BOOK-PLATE AND BOOK-TICKET in the first and second volumes.
